Change Of Venue Indicated In Tucker Case

MILANO COACH NEAR DEATH FROM CRASH INJURIES

JUDGE DODSON WILL MAKE DISPOSITION OF CASE SATURDAY

A change of venue was indicated in the case of J. C. Tucker, former vice president and cashier of the Cameron State Bank, the failure of which led to 17 indictments being returned against the bank official.

Judge E. M. Dodson stopped the proceedings in the court Wednesday when testimony was in progress in support of the petition for a change of venue and said that he would grant the change but has withheld official action until Saturday when he will return to Cameron.

May Go To Bell

While no official order has been placed on the minutes of the court granting the change of venue, it was said the petition would be granted. Judge Dodson indicated he would send the case to Bell county for trial. Hearing on the petition for a change began Tuesday. Numerous witnesses were called and evidence submitted convinced the court a change should be granted.

State Was Ready

When the case was called for trial Monday District Attorney Jack Lewis, announced ready for trial. De'ay was occasioned by motions being filed and answers made. Attacks were made on all the proceedings in the case from the calling of the original grand jury to the return of the indictments and the setting of the cases.

J. C. Tucker is represented by W. A. Morrison, W. J. Holt of Waco and W. A. Morrison Jr. and Roy Baskin of Cameron.

JOHN W. JOYNES FOUND DEAD AT HOME SUNDAY AFTERNOON BY FRIENDS

John W. Joynes, 57, widely known resident of Cameron and a native born son of Milam, was found dead at his home on East 11th Street at 4 p. m. Sunday, October 9, 1932.

The body lay in bed. A gas hose was in his mouth and a handkerchief saturated with chloroform was over his face. A bottle containing the fluid was found near his head and clutched in one hand was a handkerchief also that had been moistened with the fluid.

Found By Neighbors

The body was found by William R. Rogers and Max Collins who went to the residence thinking their friend and neighbor ill. They had not seen him since Saturday night. Physicians said he had been dead about 12 hours. Justice of Peace J. M. Ralston rendered a verdict of suicide. Evidence pointed to plans having been made by him to end his life. A sign was hanging from the front porch which read "No Smoking." Inside the room was filled with gas.

Left Letters

Three letters were found, at least one of them having been written as late as Friday, September 30. In this note he made disposition of his estate and expressed concern over his declining health and over his business reverses. Love for his daughter and family was of greatest concern to him. Another letter was left for a neighbor and gave directions for the funeral. A third note was for his daughter.

Native of Milam

John W. Joynes was born in Milam county on March 16, 1875 the son of Solon Joynes and Sophia McCown Joynes. His father came to Texas in 1866 and was a Confederate soldier. His parents were married in 1872 at the famous old McCown home near Cameron. Mr. Joynes was born there in 1875. His mother died in March of 1877. Cameron Jews Fast And Pray; Atonement Day Is Observed

October tenth was observed as Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, by adherents of the Jewish faith throughout the world and was kept by Cameron Jews who closed their places of business.

This is the greatest fast of the Jewish year. From sunset of the ninth until sunset of the tenth the orthodox Jew neither eats or drinks but devotes the day to fervent worship. Yom Kippur is distinctive among Jewish holidays for it is not associated with nature or with history. It is a day for the searching of the heart to find peace with God.

The fast originated in Biblical times and is described in the sixteenth chapter of the Book of Leviticus. At that time people fasted and afflicted themselves while the high priest made atonement for the entire house of Israel. Now prayer takes the place of sacrifice. They avoid all ordinary and sordid interests on this date.

"Grand Hotel" Booked By Milam Theatre For November Program

"Grand Hotel" the super film of the age with more star talent than ever employed in any screen success in the history of the movie, has been booked by Stanley H. Swift of the Milam Theatre.

No date has been set for the showing but it was thought it would be presented in November.

"BIRD OF PARADISE" Comes To Milam Theatre Sunday, With Dolores Del Rio and Joel McCrea

"Bird of Paradise" perhaps one of the best known plays ever produced is finding as great if not greater success on the screen and opens at the Milam Theatre on Sunday, October 16 showing through to Monday night. Stanley Swift who has just booked "Grand Hotel" counts himself and patrons fortunate in bringing Dolores Del Rio and Joel McCrea together in "Bird of Paradise."

The pathetic romance of Luana, a child of nature, who falls hopelessly in love with a white man, and as hopelessly sacrifices her love, required a setting that only the background of breathless beauty in Hawaii could give.

It is the greatest tropic picture since "Where the Pavement Ends," and King Vidor has made history.

The natural beauties of Hawaii, with its waving palms, its placid, moonlight nights, its verdant, lush valleys, its beautiful seascapes and rugged coast line were a delight to Vidor's eyes. There he set up his cameras under the direction of Clyde De Vinna, who photographed "Trader Horn."

MR. AND MRS. GAYLE ARE PRAISED FOR WORK IN FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Resolutions adopted by the First Baptist church give praise to Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gayle who have moved to Waco. The resolutions are as follows:

In as much as Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gayle have accepted a call to Seventy and James Street church in Waco and are giving up their duties in our church, we the committee appointed by our church submit the following resolutions:

Be it resolved that the young people of our church have lost valiant and faithful leaders in the going of these two splendid friends. That as general director of the B. T. S. and the Daily Vacation Bible School Mr. Gayle will be sorely missed. That the choir and music department so necessary to church life will suffer greatly because of the going of Mr. Gayle, their director.

That the Sunday School of which he was General Superintendent is sustaining a loss by being deprived of his guiding hand and that with the leaving of Mrs. Gayle the Junior Department is losing one of its most loved and valued teachers. Their co-worker, the officers and teachers have enjoyed the fellowship and association with them in the training school of our church. That we as a church family consider their work in our midst these four years most consecrated and efficient. That their ministering sympathy in times of bereavement, sickness and distress will linger in the hearts of all of us and their sacrificial, cheerful and untiring work for our Master and our church will ever be an inspiration to all who have known and loved them.

Further let it be resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our church, copies furnished Mr. and Mrs. Gayle, The Baptist Standard, the local newspapers and the pastor of the Seventh and James Street church in Waco.

Respectfully submitted,
Miss Winnie Henderson
Mrs. Jim Baskin
Preston Graves.

COURT RULES NAME OF MRS. FERGUSON ON NOVEMBER BALLOT

Austin, Oct. 8—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson tonight was the certified candidate of the democrats of Texas for the office of governor.

In a decision today, the state supreme court held as being impractical of trial suit filed by Governor R. S. Sterling contesting Mrs. Ferguson's right to the nomination and issued its mandamus to require Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, to certify Mrs. Ferguson as the nominee.

Two Times Nominee

Certification of Mrs. Ferguson made it the second time she has been the democratic nominee. She served one term as governor in 1925-26.

Within 30 minutes after the supreme court had declared the gover-

The name of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson was placed on the certified list of nominees for offices in Milam County today on receipt of a telegram by County Clerk Homer Nabours from Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, stating that she had certified Ferguson's name as the nominee for governor.

Mr. Nabours a few days ago received a certified list of nominees for all offices except the office of governor.

For the suit moot, Mrs. McCallum had certified Mrs. Ferguson's name by telegraph. The tolls were paid by Ferguson.

In declaring the suit filed by Governor Sterling was moot the supreme court stated:

"It is idle to say, we think, that the case could be tried and a final judgment entered and certified in time."

Nomination Is Valid

The decision held that Mrs. Ferguson's certificate of nomination issued by the convention, was prima facie valid and gave her a title to the nomination that could be set aside only by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. Since the court concluded it was impossible to obtain a final judgment because of the size of the case, it declared that Mrs. Ferguson had the right to have her name appear on the ballot in the proper place.

The supreme court's action culminated weeks of bitter strife in Texas politics that started early in the summer, extended thru two primary elections and wound up in a hard fought court action.

November 8 Last Day

The summary statutes require that county clerks publicly post the names of all nominees before the ballots are printed and that the printed ballots be available for persons who wish to cast absentee ballots at least 20 days before the date of election. The election is November 8 and today was the last day on which certification could be made in compliance with the statutes.

His talk was mostly reminiscent of his memberships in other luncheon clubs and was most entertaining and heartily received and appreciated by all. STERLING, MAD OVER DEFEAT BOLTS PARTY CHOICE FOR GOVERNOR

Austin, Texas, Oct. 9.—Gov. R. S. Sterling, who Saturday lost his court fight for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Sunday he would not vote for Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, the nominee, in the general election.

The Governor said he is unwilling to cast a vote to turn the State over to Mrs. Ferguson and her husband, former Gov. James E. Ferguson.

"Knowing Jim Ferguson's record, and having declared it to the people of Texas, I would consider it an act of positive dishonor to cast my vote to put the government of Texas in his hands," the Governor said.

"It is my understanding that it is generally conceded and frankly admitted that if Mrs. Ferguson is elected Governor her husband will dominate the affairs of the office, and act as Governor in fact . . . I discussed the record of James E. Ferguson and made serious charges against him. Not only did I make the charges, but I believe I submitted proof to sustain them to the satisfaction of a half million fairminded voters of Texas."

Mrs. Ferguson's name was ordered certified as the nominee by the Supreme Court. She had led the Governor by approximately 4000 votes in the August 27 primary election.

Hope of No Avail

Mrs. Ferguson Saturday expressed hope that the "intense interest incident to this, as well as other political campaigns, will cease" and that "everybody will now turn their attention to a Democratic victory, State and National, in November."

What effect Governor Sterling's declaration would have on the outcome of the gubernatorial race in the general election was a matter of conjecture.

Many Republicans already had regarded the split over the Democratic nomination as bettering the chances to elect Orville Bullington, Republican nominee. It was recalled that in 1924, when Mrs. Ferguson was a candidate the first time, she defeated Dr. George C. Butte, G. O. P. nominee, by only 121,000 votes, whereas the State normally gives its Democratic nominee a more substantial majority.

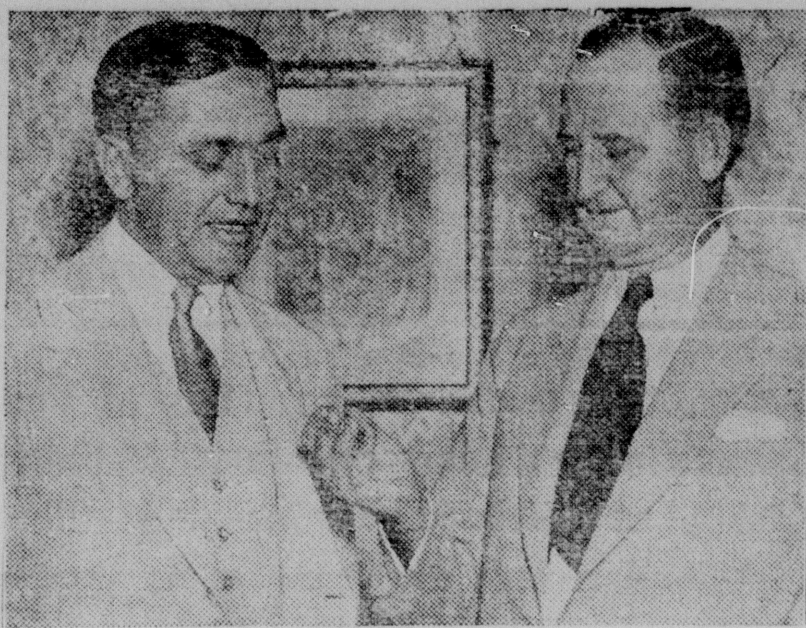

Governor Sterling was asked if he intended to support Bullington.

"The statement speaks for itself," he replied. "I have nothing more to say right now."

A group of the Governor's supporters in Dallas announced Saturday they would throw their support to Bullington in the general election.

"Will Not Be Intimidated"

"I shall not be intimidated by any cry of 'bolter' or reference to party

State Chairman sells Congressional Nominee Roosevelt-Garner Medallion. Joseph Welden Bailey, Jr., is made a shareholder in America by Maury Hughes, new chairman of State Democratic Executive Committee.

pledges," the Governor said. "First it is universally recognized that fraud citates all contracts and I have charged and am prepared to prove that fraud existed in the primaries this summer and changed what would otherwise have been the result. Even the answer of the Fergusons to my petition charged wholesale fraud."

The Fergusons had made counter-charges of fraud and illegal voting in the Governor's behalf in the primary election.

"Fraud in the procuring of the nomination has relieved me and all other Democrats of any obligation to support the one declared to be the nominee of the party," he continued.

"Finally, neither Jim Ferguson nor any of the Fergusons can crack the party whip over my back, nor influence my conception of my duty to my country and my party. In 1920 Ferguson spoke of Wilson as a memory and the Democratic nominee, Cox, as a joke, and denounced the Democratic party in bitter terms than any Republican. Again in 1922 he bolted the party."

Says Not Party Issue

"I am a Democrat and I think the greatest service I can render to my party and to my State is to do all within my power to prevent the Fergusons from gaining control of the State Government, my position being that the people of Texas can not be divided into two parties on the moral issue of common honesty in the administration of public affairs."

The Governor said he would support Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic nominee for President, with all his power.

Governor Sterling said he was not without precedent in his attitude and that he had the "example of eminent and illustrious Democrats to justify me in the course I take." Grover Cleveland, while President, declined in 1896 to support the Democratic nominee, and in that same campaign

Mrs. Ferguson buys party emblem from Frank Scofield, director of Texas drive for National Democratic Campaign funds.

Woodrow Wilson, afterward elected Governor of New Jersey and twice elected President, also refused to support the nominee, taking the position that as a citizen of the United States he felt it his duty to put his country above his party, Governor Sterling said.

"I know of no higher idealism than that of Woodrow Wilson," the Governor stated, adding that Roosevelt recently stated that in "1904 he supported Theodore Roosevelt, a Republican, and in effect stated that a citizen's obligation was to his country first and then to his party."

Refers to Al Smith

Governor Sterling asserted that Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee in 1928, stated in the account of his life that he had on occasion declined to support the Democratic nominees.

The Governor said the decision of the Supreme Court denied him access to the courts to establish his allegations. "The court did not pass on my case," he said, "but, as I understand, held that there was not sufficient time to try the case between now and the date of the election and therefore that the courts were closed to the contest."

"The result is that there can be no contest of a primary nomination for Governor regardless of whether that nomination was brought about by fraud in voting or the casting of illegal ballots."

"Of course, I accept the decision of the court as final authority and make no criticism whatever of its ruling or its opinion. I do, however, assert that the law should be changed so that if, at any future time, a nomination for Governor is obtained by improper means there will be a court in which the wrong may be righted."

"I am in possession of evidence which would have clearly established that I was the one legally nominated for Governor. However, because of the element of time and the condition of the law, I am denied opportunity to assert my rights and establish these facts."

"I did not file this contest to gratify any personal ambition for I have sacrificed enough in the public service. I filed it to preserve Texas, the State for whose liberty my forefathers fought at San Jacinto, from the evils of Ferguson and what he represents in public life."

STOMACH DISORDERS THREATEN HIS LIFE SAYS WESTERN BANKER

"I tried everything to get relief from stomach trouble," says M. J. Joy, prominent banker, 425 Riverside Avenue, Spokane, Wash. "About an hour after meal time severe, burning pains would develop in my stomach. Finally, I had to carry a thermos bottle filled with milk and take a drink every hour. I went to one stomach specialist after another. All recommended an immediate operation and diagnosed my case as an ulcer. One doctor told my wife that I had a cancer of the stomach. X-rays cost me over $300. I was afraid to submit to an operation as a friend of mine had one for a stomach ulcer and later he was as bad as ever. A neighbor told me about a marvelous new discovery by a German specialist called KING'S STOMACH TABLETS. I wired for a bottle to be sent me C. O. D. After taking the first tablet I felt relieved. In less than a week my appetite began to return and I began to eat normally and digest my food. I used three bottles altogether. Two months ago I left off the treatment. I have gained 40 pounds in weight and feel like a boy again."

PRESCRIPTION OF SPECIALIST
KING'S STOMACH TABLETS so highly praised by Mr. Joy is a simple harmless preparation based on the formula of a noted stomach specialist. It cannot harm anyone and according to reports from users, has given complete satisfaction to thousands of stomach sufferers. Hundreds of these cases were of years duration and seemed hopeless. Yet they state they obtained relief almost from the first tablet and began to improve rapidly under the King treatment.

ACID STOMACH CAUSES IT
Excess acidity of the stomach, any physician will tell you, is the curse of millions. It is the most common cause of stomach or gastric ulcers as well as many other disorders of the stomach. In addition to stomach ulcers, acid stomach is generally the direct cause of nervous indigestion, gas pains, pains after eating, bloating, belching, gnawing pains, heartburn, gastritis, sour stomach, constipation, etc.

NEUTRALIZES EXCESS ACID
To combat these conditions you need a treatment that will absorb the extra acid in the stomach and then protect, soothe the membranes of the stomach lining in order that nature may heal the ulcerated condition. This new scientific way of treating stomach disorders is nothing short of miraculous. Thousands have been relieved and have rid themselves of their dangerous stomach trouble.

OFFERED ON 15 DAYS TRIAL
If your condition is due to excess acid King's Stomach Tablets should bring quick and lasting relief. Write today for my 15-DAY TRIAL OFFER. You need not risk a penny of your money to find out what this new stomach remedy will do for you. It won't hurt you to try it. If it doesn't benefit and relieve you there is no harm done. PROGRESS IS MADE ON MALARIA CONTROL

The program begun last June in Milam county as a part of the state and national plan of creating better health conditions for our citizenry, is continuing along several lines.

One of these was an educational talk given last Tuesday at Cameron Country Club by Miss Edna Southard of United States Public Health Service.

Miss Southard addressed a representative gathering of Milam County's women, giving startling information as to the annual toll of malaria in days and weeks of lowered resistance and consequent lowered capacity of both children and adults, stressing the prolonged result of neglect of malarial conditions in the system.

She told of the encouraging results of scientific dealing with such conditions and outlined the program accepted by our County Health Council and given us through federal and state appropriation.

The fact that Texas was the first state to make a specific appropriation for malaria control, inspires us with the determination to make good use of the program she provides.

Miss Southard also spoke of the health foundation being laid in our schools by the study of a booklet furnished by this movement and heartily approved by Mrs. Robbins, County Superintendent.

Dr. W. R. Newton, County Health Officer, spoke appreciatively of the work being done, and of the urgent need for intelligent interest in health conditions.

Recommendations were offered as to greater interest in municipal supervision of health and sanitation.

The demonstration feature of the extensive program begun last June, has been the screening and papering of four homes, all in different sections of the county. Sixteen mesh wire and heavy craft paper have been used.

The homes selected have afforded opportunity for demonstrating exclusion of mosquitoes and flies from even the older homes. These were located in Sharpe, Jones Prairie, Bethlehem, and Branchville. The people of the several communities have co-operated finely in helping with the work and have been impressed with the methods and materials used.

The respective chairmen have been Mrs. Jack Dunham, Mrs. Tom Stidham, Mrs. L. L. Bradley and I. Lewis.

"EVENING SONG"
(From the "Three Musketeers")
"Wont you come into my parlor?"
Said the Skeeter to the Fly.
"Its the dearest little parlor
That Farmer Jones could buy.
Not a screen to stay your coming,
Not a thing to say you nay—
Oh, come into my parlor,
And pass the time of day."

"Tis a pleasant looking prospect,
Ill admit," the Housefly said.
"We can keep up with the Joneses
And cut down overhead.
First I'll get my fill of garbage
Crawling over filthy things;
Then I'll come and give the Jones
Gifts no other creature brings."

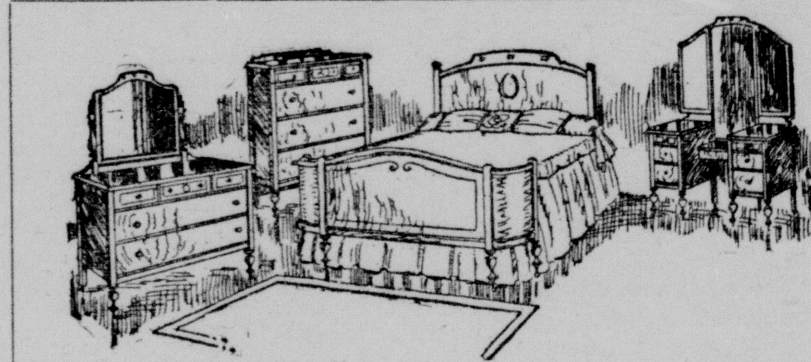

So the Fly stocked up on Typhoid
While the Skeeter pruned his bill
And at night they prowled the cabin
Planting germs with deadly skill.
Oh, the unsuspecting Joneses
Sleeping restlessly that night
Gave hostages to fortune—
Yielding up their great birthright.

Malaria fevers came upon them,
Typhoid and Diphtheria too—
And at last they learned their lesson
Screening is the thing to do.

A TONIC Laxative

CONSTIPATION, with the annoying symptoms that usually come with it, cuts down organic force and disturbs normal health and well-being. A thorough cleansing of the digestive tract is of great assistance in the removal of sickening constipation symptoms. When excessive accumulated waste matter disturbs and strains the muscles of the large intestines, rendering them temporarily unable to perform their wave-like evacuating movements, Thedford's Black-Draught is useful in stimulating them to activity, which, again started, should continue regularly until some future disturbance interferes. In this way, Thedford's Black-Draught is one of the TONIC laxatives, tending, as it does, to establish a regular habit of evacuation.

A meeting of the local Council of the Boy Scouts was held Monday night in the office of the Texas Power and Light Co., John Young chairman of District 4, presided.

Dr. J. P. Meroney, Waco, president of the Heart of Texas Council, made an inspiring talk on the 10 year program recently inaugurated by the Boy Scouts of America.

Scout Executive, Jack Lawrence of Waco, spoke on goals and achievements (not financial but otherwise) showing that District 4 had obtained 55 per cent of the program outlined for the year with several months to go. Discussions followed in which those present showed much interest. A Court of Honor will be had in Cameron on Friday, October 21. The next meeting of the local district was decided on for November 14.

Others present for the meeting on Monday night were Scoutmasters J. W. Haygood, Bennie Archer and J. A. Lindle, assistant Scoutmaster Lewis Matula, committeemen Max Collins, Raymond Sharpe, Rudolph Richter, Guy T. Newton, T. A. Fisher and local chairmen, F. E. Jackson and J. P. Love.

Troop 32, B. L. Archer, Scoutmaster The meeting Friday night was turned into a discussion of the needs of Scouting in this Council. There was a round table discussion and everyone expressed their opinions freely.

We are sorry to have not been able to have had the hike as announced but parties drew some of the boys away. There will be no Scout activity on account of the night football game at Hearne. We all want to be good Scouts and loyal to our team and also friendly to our opposing team.

Troop 53, J. W. Haygood, Scoutmaster The regular meeting was held on Friday night with 19 Scouts present, Scoutmaster and assistant Scoutmaster. This meeting was games thru-out. A new game was played, known as Stage Coach.

We were very glad to have as visitors Bennie Archer, Scoutmaster of Troop 32 present, and who helped us with the games, Mrs. J. W. Haygood and S. E. Brogdon. We will not have a meeting this Friday night on account of night football game at Hearne. Those who volunteered to assist Mr. Love Saturday morning, be sure and be at Mr. Love's home at 9 o'clock Saturday, October 15.

Troop 52, J. A. Lindle, Scoutmaster Troop 52 held their regular meeting Friday night with an attendance of 12 registered Scouts, Scoutmaster and assistant Scoutmaster, and three visiting boys, making a total of 17 present.

The meeting was opened with a few Scout songs led by Scout Richard Houston. The business section was given over to a discussion, with an example of plaster of paris work by the Scoutmaster.

The plan for the president's award for achievement was unfolded and Troop 52 expects to win one of these awards. The patrol meeting was given over to second class signal work and the patrols broke even in the contests. Each patrol gave a report on how Scouting has helped the community, according to their own observations. Patrol leader Paul Michalka gave an interesting talk on how the 12 Scout laws apply to games and sports of all kinds. After a drill exercise the meeting was closed with the Scout oath and law, followed by the final admonition "Be Prepared."

Rev. Ed Mace, pastor of the local Christian church, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Adams, Mesdames H. E. Garner and G. C. Walters, attended the Christian District Conference at Hillsboro last Friday and remained for the banquet that evening.

'Bird of Paradise'

immeasurably broadened the scope of the story.

Dance Amid Flames

The barbaric beauty of the primitive Hawaiian mating dance was caught in all its wild, esoteric splendor. Amid a circle of flames, Miss Del Rio undulates in the ominous night—a pathetic pawn of custom, waiting for some man to brave the fire and carry her off.

Joel McCrea rescues her—braves the menacing circle of fire—and carries her off to a deserted, neighboring island, free from the dreaded tabus of her people, momentarily free to love the white god who captured her. Then the theme of "Bird of Paradise" weaves its inevitable destiny. Luana's people wish to sacrifice her to Pele, the volcano, for having broken the tabu against mating with a white.

Luana is torn between love for Johnny (Joel McCrea) and the primitive terror or sorcery, and in the end makes a magnificent sacrifice that is a classic in the annals of drama.

Lavishly Done

In producing "Bird of Paradise" is tremendous in scope. No money was pinched to make it a realistic saga of romance.

While in Honolulu the company was

POLITICAL PEACE PLEA OF MRS. FERGUSON IN STATEMENT TO PEOPLE

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson was certified as the nominee of the Democratic Party on last Saturday when the Supreme Court of Texas held the Sterling contest moot because of lack of time to try the suit.

Immediately after her name was certified to the County Clerks in Texas for the November ballot.

In a plea for political peace Mrs. Ferguson made the following statement:

"Of course I, with all the rest of my family and friends, am pleased at the decision of the supreme court. I was most ably represented by lawyers and I had the cooperation and best wishes of thousands of good people throughout the state. I hope that the intense feeling incident to this, as well as all other political campaigns, will cease and that everybody will now turn their attention to a democratic victory, state and national, in November, from which the people expect relief from our present economic troubles.

Jim Will Help

"As governor, I promise to give my undivided time and attention to the affairs of the office. Of course, my husband will help me as he should and as everybody expects he will. Whatever the merits of the controversy heretofore discussed, there is no use now for anybody to attempt to divert the minds of the people from attention to their needs for recurring to the fact that I have a husband that will give me his best time and talent in helping me to render needed service to the people. That question ought to be left at rest."

Mrs. John Garner buys Democratic emblem from co-director of Texas campaign. Wife of Vice-Presidential Nominee gets Roosevelt-Garner Medallion from Senator Margie Neal.

for a season at least, and I trust that it will.

For All the People

"I want an opportunity to show the people that I can be governor of all the people and I here and now ask for the cooperation of all good citizens, whether they voted for me in the campaign or not. I have forgotten all the harsh things that were said in the campaign and I want to be at peace with everybody, and I pray God that I may have the cooperation of the citizenship of our great state, in bringing about an administration of public affairs that will redound to the good of all the people.

Fight Depression

"While we have adjusted ourselves to our conditions and have met the panic with fortitude, yet we are not out of the darkness of depression and it is going to require a unified effort of all the people in promoting the common good, if we survive the difficulties of the future.

"Again I want to thank our friends everywhere for their continued loyalty and my husband joins me in thanking everybody in advance for their loyalty and support in dealing with problems of the future."

NEW SALEM SCHOOL OPENS OCTOBER THIRD

By J. R. HOBBS

Our school opened last Monday, October 3 with a large attendance of pupils and several of the patrons and trustees. The superintendent, J. M. Moorman made a nice talk. We are very fortunate to have the splendid faculty we have. They are not new to us as they all taught here last year except Miss Loree Boswell of Tanglewood. She will succeed Miss Dora Mae Pennington in the primary room. Miss Alla Rae Belt in the elementary room, Mrs. Moorman the sixth and seventh grades and Mr. Moorman the eighth and ninth grades. Crops here are nearly all gathered. The cotton crop was short. This community has raised the largest crop of corn, peas, sweet potatoes, milo maize, higeria, cane and peanuts than has been made in many years. Lots of cane was planted for syrup and a fair yield was obtained.

Grandma Long passed quietly away at her home here on last Wednesday night at the age of 86 years. She had been a resident of this community for a number of years. She leaves her children and a host of friends to mourn her untimely end. Interment was made in the Sand Grove cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Diver of the San Andres community were visiting among their children here the past week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Schlotman were visitors in the W. G. Hairston home Sunday afternoon.

John Dansby has recently returned from North Dakota where he has been working in the harvest fields. He reports the people in that state are in much better financial condition than are the people of Texas.

The Misses DeMore and Henderson of Bushdale were week end guests of Mrs. T. E. Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers were guests in the Dansby home Sunday.

J. W. Davis and children attended church at Rockdale Sunday.

Owen D. Graham of Thorndale was visiting here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Hosea were Rockdale visitors Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ellis and family were visitors at Hicks Sunday.

There will be singing at the Harmony church here every Sunday night and everyone is invited to come and be with us and take part.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Skinner and children were visitors in the John West home Sunday.

Mrs. M. M. Johnson was called to San Marcos last week on account of the illness of a grand child.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Welch and family of Yoakum have moved to Cameron where they will make their home in the future. Mr. Welch is a salesman for the Duncan Coffee Co. Cameron welcomes Mr. and Mrs. Welch.

Change of Venue Sought By Attorneys For Tucker Charged In Bank Failure

A change of venue was asked for J. C. Tucker by his attorneys in District Court here Tuesday. The motion was the last of a number filed that took the court through three days of preliminary proceedings. The judge had overruled all motions up to noon Wednesday when the motion for a change of venue was pending.

Witnesses were placed on stand to testify and were being questioned by attorneys for Tucker and by State's Attorney Jack Lewis. The defendant is charged in 17 indictments growing out of the failure of the Cameron State Bank on December 17, 1931.

Case Is Called

The case was called for trial Monday morning at nine o'clock. Four cases had been set by District Attorney Jack Lewis. Judge Dodson of the 87th District court at Marlin is on the bench taking the place of Judge Watson who is excused because he is related to defendant, J. C. Tucker.

Counsel for Tucker made objections to the manner in which the cases were set and also contended that no more than three cases was agreed to be set and the court had set four cases. William J. Holt, former Criminal District attorney for McLennan county at Waco, is attorney for Tucker in association with W. A. Morrison, Sr., Roy Baskin and W. A. Morrison Jr.

S. M. Burns, Democratic nominee for the office of Criminal District Attorney, was sitting with Jack Lewis in the case as an observer.

Want Judge Disqualified

When Judge Dodson had taken the bench the counsel for Tucker made a motion to disqualify the judge, raising the question of procedure on the part of the court and a discussion followed in which the manner of the exchange of judges occurred. Judge John Watson served with a subpoena to appear as a witness but is in Marlin trying a case in the 87th District Court. Counsel for Tucker asked the judge if he had received any notice from the Governor to sit in the case. Judge Dodson overruled the contention of Tucker's lawyers and cited the Constitution providing for methods by which judges may change places on the bench.

Constitution Governs

He said that no statute could hold higher authority than the Constitution and that his appearance in the case was on request of Judge Watson who was recused under the law. W. A. Morrison called to the attention of the court the statutes on Criminal Procedure of which the judge took note but overruled the motion to disqualify him to try the case. He said the Constitution sustained the action of himself and Judge Watson in making the exchange of their respective benches. Counsel for Tucker made their exceptions to all such rulings from the court. Deputy Sheriff Will Vaughn was sworn and testified to having served on Judge Watson the subpoena to appear as a witness in the case. Judge Watson was excused by the Court on the grounds he had exchanged benches and was in Marlin holding court.

Motion To Quash

When counsel for Tucker had failed in their motions thus far a motion to quash the indictments was presented to the court. The motion was based on the contention that the Grand Jury that returned the indictments had adjourned for more than three days and was not thereby in authority to return to consideration of the case and subsequently return the indictments. It was held that a grand jury may remain in panel during an entire court term but once it adjourns during consideration of cases before it that an indictment returned would be faulty. If the grand jury had adjourned three days the contention is the indictments would be regular. Charge is made the jury remained inactive for a length of time in excess of the three day limit.

Lewis Files Answer

When the court adjourned at noon Monday District Attorney Jack Lewis had spent more than an hour preparing an answer to the petition filed by the attorneys for Tucker to quash the indictments.

Court Room Crowded

J. C. Tucker, charged in seventeen counts with embezzlement, drawing without authority and with intent to defraud and false entry, sat with his attorneys, watching the proceedings with casual concern. The court room was crowded to capacity when the cases were called. The jury venire was present and the members were excused while the motions were argued. Witnesses subpoenaed by defense counsel to support motion for a change of venue were present. Interest lagged somewhat with the tedious procedure and many left the court room and at noon only a few remained.

Motions Are Filed

When the court convened at 2 p. m., attorneys for Tucker filed a motion to quash the indictment in case No. 9191 which was called for trial first. In the motion the defense counsel said the case involved five alleged felonies and all charges had been grouped under one bill of indictment. This motion was overruled. Counsel for state made answers to the motion.

The next motion to be filed was that a certified copy of the indictments should be served and failure on part of the court to do so was sufficient grounds to quash, said the counsel for defense. Judge Dodson overruled this motion and counsel for Tucker took an exception as they did in all the actions of the court in overruling their motions.

Claim Judge Erred

A motion to quash indictments and case No. 9191 which was the first called for trial was submitted with the plea that Judge John Watson had erred in not recusing himself from all connection with the case. The plea sets out that Judge Watson received the indictments and set the cases and should have declined all connection with the case. This motion was overruled. District Attorney Jack Lewis wanted to make a written reply to this motion but said he could not do so until he had talked with Judge Watson who is in Marlin. The reply of the District Attorney will be made when he has consulted Judge Watson.

Would Quash Jury Panel

The last motion to be filed on Monday was made to quash the jury panel. Counsel for Tucker said the panel should be quashed on the grounds that a member of the grand jury, P. H. McCawley of Rockdale, had served on the jury commission that selected the jurors. In all there are 36 jurors, the limit of the panel in cases of this kind. The motion also sets out the plea that John P. O'Neil of Burlington drawn on the jury for the case had litigation pending growing out of the Cameron State Bank failure. However, Mr. O'Neil was not connected with the Cameron State Bank, but was Vice president and Cashier of the Burlington State Bank. As suit has been filed by depositors of the defunct Cameron State Bank asking that Burlington Bank and Buckholts Bank return money drawn out just prior to the failure in Cameron.

The motion was pending when the court adjourned. District Attorney Lewis was framing his reply to the motion when the court adjourned.

Jury Excused

Judge Dodson excused the jurors until 9 a. m. Wednesday when they are called to report at the court room. The panel was asked to leave the court room while the motions were under discussion. The court adjourned until 9 a. m., Tuesday at which time Judge Dodson took under consideration the motion to quash the jury. It seemed certain that the court would get under way to try the case by Wednesday or Thursday although some time will be required to select a jury.

Witnesses were expected to be summoned on both sides on some of the motions, it was indicated.

Motions Continue

When court convened on Tuesday at 9 o'clock Judge Dodson was confronted with additional motions. Late Monday he took under advisement the motion to quash the jury panel. Counsel for Tucker had District Clerk Penn Wolf sworn and placed on the stand to testify as to the court records. It was developed that Judge Few Brewster of Bell county had presided in the court at the time the jury commission was called. Mr. Wolf said that in an effort to assist the jury that the Jury Commission and panel for the term involving more than 300 names had been prepared by himself and the District Attorney and Sheriff and the list was available to the judge when he arrived. Counsel for Tucker urged this proceeding did not meet the requirements of the law. At noon counsel for Tucker had asked for a ruling from the court.

Ask Postponement

Another motion filed asked postponement of the present trial and counsel for Tucker asked the court to set the order of trial. Counsel was raising throughout the proceedings the question of the legality of the entire proceedings from the time the indictments were returned, the validity of the jury commission and the jury panel. District Attorney Jack Lewis in each instance made a reply to the motions and in all motions thus far Judge Dodson had overruled contentions of counsel for Tucker.

MY STORY

By MRS. H. A. KUZEL

Orchard, Garden and Pantry Demonstrator for Corinth Home Demonstration Club.

J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist, in February of this year gave an orchard demonstration at my home, setting out trees and pruning orchard. All clubs in the county were represented at this meeting, each going back to their respective clubs and putting on like demonstrations.

Number of fruit trees, peach, plum and fig plants in my orchard were 29 with a value of $2.18 with 24 berries and 4 grapes making a total value of $3.83. Our orchard was well cultivated during the spring and summer months. In late summer my husband planted black eyed peas in the orchard. In the latter part of September these peas were turned under and the ground was planted in oats.

The total number of fruit trees set out by club and community is 191, 261 berries and 24 grapes, total value is $26.

My garden cost for seed, fertilizer and labor was $10.75. I had 16 varieties of vegetables. For my family of three I have used from this garden fresh vegetables valued at $82.85. I have canned of fruits and vegetables 409 quarts with a value of same, including 16 quarts of honey, $103.55.

Until this year I stored my canned products in the storm cellar but recently my husband built a pantry, which contains 42 feet of shelving and has four doors. The cost of this pantry (lumber, beaver board, ivory enamel and paint was $10.65.

My cooperators came in and organized my pantry arranging products in the following order: Shelves 1 and 2 were leafy vegetables such as kraut, string beans, black eyed peas and spinach; shelf No. 3 was starchy vegetables as corn and English peas; No. 4 contained milk, butter, home made cheese, eggs, bread crumbs, rice, whole wheat, cereals, browned flour, pecans, dates, carrots, cabbage, fresh fruits, cookies, raisins, noodles and canned black eyed peas, pickled peaches, spinach, tomatoes, vegetable soup, corn, minced chicken, chicken gumbo, pickled beets, dill pickles, sandwich spread, okra, kraut, jelly and fish.

Shelf 5 had vegetables of all kinds. Shelf 6 had fruits. Shelf 7 contained meats, pickles and relishes.

Shelf 8 had jellies, preserves and relishes.

My dry vegetables are Irish potatoes, onions, and garlic in the amount of 740 pounds valued at $37.

I was handicapped in canning since I have no steam pressure cooker but my cooperators kindly helped me, by coming to my home bringing their cookers and sealers or I would go to their homes. Thus I was able to do what I have done and while so doing became better acquainted with my neighbors.

Building my pantry called for other improvements in my kitchen. I painted the ceiling a cream color, my new kitchen paper is tan and blue, the latter color predominating, my curtains, made by one of my cooperators, a neighbor, are blue print, with white dots. These curtains have ruffles. A pretty blue bulletin file, made by another cooperator hangs on the wall. A new flue was built also. Total expenditures for wall paper, paint, paint brush, curtains, bulletin file and flue was $8.00. I have sold $70.00 worth of eggs and $154.00 worth of butter the first nine months of this year. This paid for groceries, 244 cans, six dozen fruit jars, ice, gasoline and miscellaneous articles not listed.

$100 was spent for groceries of which perhaps $30 was for fresh fruit but we believe in lots of fresh fruit in our diet.

I shall now give the 4-H pantry report of Corinth Club.

Number of quarts canned 5616, total value being $2348; recipe menu files made, 4; number feet shelving added, 105; average number containers per member, 281; average member reporting, $117.40; per cent of people reached, 29; dried vegetables for club 17,042 pounds; value $852; cured meats, 4150 pounds with value of $498.

When I began my work as orchard, garden and pantry demonstrator I knew little about the club work but thanks to Miss Bartholomew, County Home Agent and to my cooperators, who have assisted and encouraged me. I think I know more than when I began.

MILANO COACH NEAR DEATH FROM CRASH INJURIES

JUDGE DODSON WILL MAKE DISPOSITION OF CASE SATURDAY

A change of venue was indicated in the case of J. C. Tucker, former vice president and cashier of the Cameron State Bank, the failure of which led to 17 indictments being returned against the bank official.

Judge E. M. Dodson stopped the proceedings in the court Wednesday when testimony was in progress in support of the petition for a change of venue and said that he would grant the change but has withheld official action until Saturday when he will return to Cameron.

May Go To Bell

While no official order has been placed on the minutes of the court granting the change of venue, it was said the petition would be granted. Judge Dodson indicated he would send the case to Bell county for trial. Hearing on the petition for a change began Tuesday. Numerous witnesses were called and evidence submitted convinced the court a change should be granted.

State Was Ready

When the case was called for trial Monday District Attorney Jack Lewis, announced ready for trial. Deaf was occasioned by motions being filed and answers made. Attacks were made on all the proceedings in the case from the calling of the original grand jury to the return of the indictments and the setting of the cases.

J. C. Tucker is represented by W. A. Morrison, W. J. Holt of Waco and W. A. Morrison Jr. and Roy Baskin of Cameron.

JOHN W. JOYNES FOUND DEAD AT HOME SUNDAY AFTERNOON BY FRIENDS

John W. Joynes, 57, widely known resident of Cameron and a native born son of Milam, was found dead at his home on East 11th Street at 4 p. m. Sunday, October 9, 1932.

The body lay in bed. A gas hose was in his mouth and a handkerchief saturated with chloroform was over his face. A bottle containing the fluid was found near his head and clutched in one hand was a handkerchief also that had been moistened with the fluid.

Found By Neighbors

The body was found by William R. Rogers and Max Collins who went to the residence thinking their friend and neighbor ill. They had not seen him since Saturday night. Physicians said he had been dead about 12 hours. Justice of Peace J. M. Ralston rendered a verdict of suicide. Evidence pointed to plans having been made by him to end his life. A sign was hanging from the front porch which read "No Smoking." Inside the room was filled with gas.

Left Letters

Three letters were found, at least one of them having been written as late as Friday, September 30. In this note he made disposition of his estate and expressed concern over his declining health and over his business reverses. Love for his daughter and family was of greatest concern to him. Another letter was left for a neighbor and gave directions for the funeral. A third note was for his daughter.

Native of Milam

John W. Joynes was born in Milam county on March 16, 1875 the son of Solon Joynes and Sophia McCown Joynes. His father came to Texas in 1866 and was a Confederate soldier. Cameron Jews Fast And Pray; Atonement Day Is Observed

October tenth was observed as Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, by adherents of the Jewish faith throughout the world and was kept by Cameron Jews who closed their places of business.

This is the greatest fast of the Jewish year. From sunset of the ninth until sunset of the tenth the orthodox Jew neither eats or drinks but devotes the day to fervent worship. Yom Kippur is distinctive among Jewish holidays for it is not associated with nature or with history. It is a day for the searching of the heart to find peace with God.

The fast originated in Biblical times and is described in the sixteenth chapter of the Book of Leviticus. At that time people fasted and afflicted themselves while the high priest made atonement for the entire house of Israel. Now prayer takes the place of sacrifice. They avoid all ordinary and sordid interests on this date.

"BIRD OF PARADISE" Comes To Milam Theatre Sunday, With Dolores Del Rio and Joel McCrea

"Bird of Paradise" perhaps one of the best known plays ever produced is finding as great if not greater success on the screen and opens at the Milam Theatre on Sunday, October 16 showing through to Monday night. Stanley Swift who has just booked "Grand Hotel" counts himself and patrons fortunate in bringing Dolores Del Rio and Joel McCrea together in "Bird of Paradise."

The pathetic romance of Luana, a child of nature, who falls hopelessly in love with a white man, and as hopelessly sacrifices her love, required a setting that only the background of breathless beauty in Hawaii could give.

It is the greatest tropic picture since "Where the Pavement Ends," and King Vidor has made history.

The natural beauties of Hawaii, with its waving palms, its placid, moonlight nights, its verdant, lush valleys, its beautiful seascape and rugged coast line were a delight to Vidor's eyes. There he set up his cameras under the direction of Clyde De Vinna, who photographed "Trader Horn."

MR. AND MRS. GAYLE ARE PRAISED FOR WORK IN FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Resolutions adopted by the First Baptist church give praise to Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gayle who have moved to Waco. The resolutions are as follows:

In as much as Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Gayle have accepted a call to Seventy and James Street church in Waco and are giving up their duties in our church, we the committee appointed by our church submit the following resolutions:

Be it resolved that the young people of our church have lost valiant and faithful leaders in the going of these two splendid friends. That as general director of the B. T. S. and the Daily Vacation Bible School Mr. Gayle will be sorely missed. That the choir and music department so necessary to church life will suffer greatly because of the going of Mr. Gayle, their director.

That the Sunday School of which he was General Superintendent is sustaining a loss by being deprived of his guiding hand and that with the leaving of Mrs. Gayle the Junior Department is losing one of its most loved and valued teachers. Their co-worker, the officers and teachers have enjoyed the fellowship and association with them in the training school of our church. That we as a church family consider their work in our midst these four years most consecrated and efficient. That their ministering sympathy in times of bereavement, sickness and distress will linger in the hearts of all of us and their sacrificial, cheerful and untiring work for our Master and our church will ever be an inspiration to all who have known and loved them.

Further let it be resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our church, copies furnished Mr. and Mrs. Gayle, The Baptist Standard, the local newspapers and the pastor of the Seventh and James Street church in Waco.

Respectfully submitted, Miss Winnie Henderson, Mrs. Jim Baskin, Preston Graves.

COURT RULES NAME OF MRS. FERGUSON ON NOVEMBER BALLOT

Austin, Oct. 8—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson tonight was the certified candidate of the democrats of Texas for the office of governor.

In a decision today, the state supreme court held as being impractical of trial suit filed by Governor R. S. Sterling contesting Mrs. Ferguson's right to the nomination and issued its mandamus to require Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, to certify Mrs. Ferguson as the nominee.

Two Times Nominee

Certification of Mrs. Ferguson made it the second time she has been the democratic nominee. She served one term as governor in 1925-26.

Within 30 minutes after the supreme court had declared the govern-

The name of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson was placed on the certified list of nominees for offices in Milam County today on receipt of a telegram by County Clerk Homer Nabours from Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, stating that she had certified Ferguson's name as the nominee for governor.

Mr. Nabours a few days ago received a certified list of nominees for all offices except the office of governor.

nor's suit moot, Mrs. McCallum had certified Mrs. Ferguson's name by telegraph. The tolls were paid by Ferguson.

In declaring the suit filed by Governor Sterling was moot the supreme court stated:

"It is idle to say, we think, that the case could be tried and a final judgment entered and certified in time."

Nomination Is Valid

The decision held that Mrs. Ferguson's certificate of nomination issued by the convention, was prima facie valid and gave her a title to the nomination that could be set aside only by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. Since the court concluded it was impossible to obtain a final judgment because of the size of the case, it declared that Mrs. Ferguson had the right to have her name appear on the ballot in the proper place.

The supreme court's action culminated weeks of bitter strife in Texas politics that started early in the summer, extended thru two primary elections and wound up in a hard fought court action.

November 8 Last Day

The summary statutes require that county clerks publicly post the names of all nominees before the ballots are printed and that the printed ballots be available for persons who wish to cast absentee ballots at least 20 days before the date of election. The election is November 8 and today was the last day on which certification could be made in compliance with the statutes.

In line with their enlarged program for the year the Cameron Lions Club had, as out of town speaker at their noon day luncheon this week, W. R. Hall, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Corsicana.

Dr. Hall, it will be recalled, was formerly pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city some fifteen years back, and his visit to the Lions Club was in the nature of a welcome by his old Cameron friends, many of whom were present at the luncheon. His talk was mostly reminiscent of his memberships in other luncheon clubs and was most entertaining and heartily received and appreciated by all. It was an unusual address and held the interested attention of the members until adjournment.

Dr. Hall is conducting a so-called meeting at the Presbyterian church in Cameron at this time and his friends and admirers of former days are glad to welcome him back to the Friendly City.

If you are weak, run-down, suffering monthly, take Cardul. Take it for a reasonable length of time and try it thoroughly. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of women who have written to say: "Cardul helped me."

STERLING, MAD OVER DEFEAT BOLTS PARTY CHOICE FOR GOVERNOR

Austin, Texas, Oct. 9.—Gov. R. S. Sterling, who Saturday lost his court fight for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Sunday he would not vote for Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, the nominee, in the general election.

The Governor said he is unwilling to cast a vote to turn the State over to Mrs. Ferguson and her husband, former Gov. James E. Ferguson.

"Knowing Jim Ferguson's record, and having declared it to the people of Texas, I would consider it an act of positive dishonor to cast my vote to put the government of Texas in his hands," the Governor said.

"It is my understanding that it is generally conceded and frankly admitted that if Mrs. Ferguson is elected Governor her husband will dominate the affairs of the office, and act as Governor in fact. . . I discussed the record of James E. Ferguson and made serious charges against him. Not only did I make the charges, but I believe I submitted proof to sustain them to the satisfaction of a half million fairminded voters of Texas."

Mrs. Ferguson's name was ordered certified as the nominee by the Supreme Court. She had led the Governor by approximately 4000 votes in the August 27 primary election.

Hope of No Avail

Mrs. Ferguson Saturday expressed hope that the "intense interest incident to this, as well as other political campaigns, will cease" and that "everybody will now turn their attention to a Democratic victory, State and National, in November."

What effect Governor Sterling's declaration would have on the outcome of the gubernatorial race in the general election was a matter of conjecture.

Many Republicans already had regarded the split over the Democratic nomination as bettering the chances to elect Orville Bullington, Republican nominee. It was recalled that in 1924, when Mrs. Ferguson was a candidate the first time, she defeated Dr. George C. Butte, G. O. P. nominee, by only 121,000 votes, whereas the State normally gives its Democratic nominee a more substantial majority.

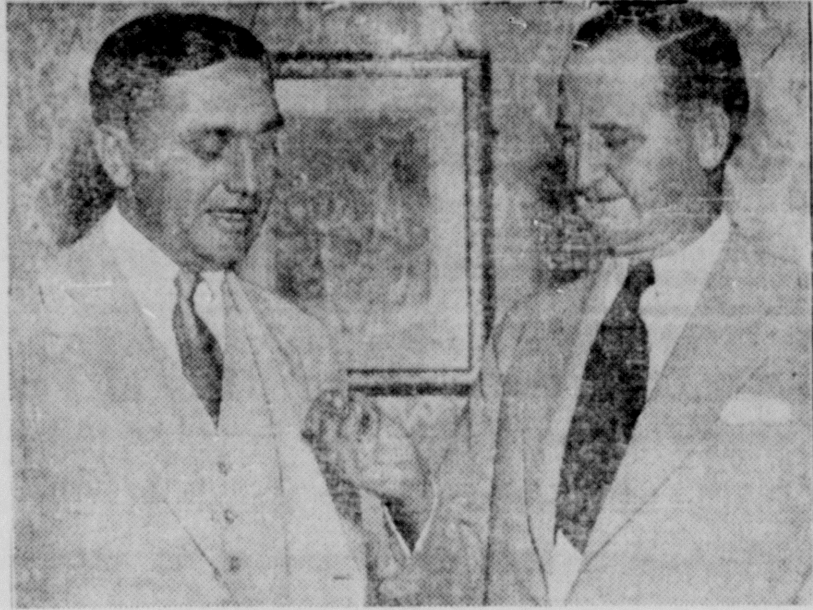

Governor Sterling was asked if he intended to support Bullington.

"The statement speaks for itself," he replied. "I have nothing more to say right now."

A group of the Governor's supporters in Dallas announced Saturday they would throw their support to Bullington in the general election.

"Will Not Be Intimidated"

"I shall not be intimidated by any cry of 'bolter' or reference to party

State Chairman sells Congressional Nominee Roosevelt-Garner Medallion. Joseph Weldon Bailey, Jr., is made a shareholder in America by Maury Hughes, new chairman of State Democratic Executive Committee.

pledges," the Governor said. "First it is universally recognized that fraud citates all contracts and I have charged and am prepared to prove that fraud existed in the primaries this summer and changed what would otherwise have been the result. Even the answer of the Fergusons to my petition charged wholesale fraud."

The Fergusons had made counter-charges of fraud and illegal voting in the Governor's behalf in the primary election.

"Fraud in the procuring of the nomination has relieved me and all other Democrats of any obligation to support the one declared to be the nominee of the party," he continued.

"Finally, neither Jim Ferguson nor any of the Fergusons can crack the party whip over my back, nor influence my conception of my duty to my country and my party. In 1920 Ferguson spoke of Wilson as a memory and the Democratic nominee, Cox, as a joke, and denounced the Democratic party in bitter terms than any Republican. Again in 1922 he bolted the party."

Says Not Party Issue

"I am a Democrat and I think the greatest service I can render to my party and to my State is to do all within my power to prevent the Fergusons from gaining control of the State Government, my position being that the people of Texas can not be divided into two parties on the moral issue of common honesty in the administration of public affairs."

The Governor said he would support Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic nominee for President, with all his power.

Governor Sterling said he was not without precedent in his attitude and that he had the "example of eminent and illustrious Democrats to justify me in the course I take." Grover Cleveland, while President, declined in 1896 to support the Democratic nominee, and in that same campaign

Mrs. Ferguson buys party emblem from Frank Scofield, director of Texas drive for National Democratic Campaign funds.

Woodrow Wilson, afterward elected Governor of New Jersey and twice elected President, also refused to support the nominee, taking the position that as a citizen of the United States he felt it his duty to put his country above his party, Governor Sterling said.

"I know of no higher idealism than that of Woodrow Wilson," the Governor stated, adding that Roosevelt recently stated that in "1904 he supported Theodore Roosevelt, a Republican, and in effect stated that a citizen's obligation was to his country first and then to his party."

Refers to Al Smith

Governor Sterling asserted that Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee in 1928, stated in the account of his life that he had on occasion declined to support the Democratic nominees.

The Governor said the decision of the Supreme Court denied him access to the courts to establish his allegations. "The court did not pass on my case," he said, "but, as I understand, held that there was not sufficient time to try the case between now and the date of the election and therefore that the courts were closed to the contest."

"The result is that there can be no contest of a primary nomination for Governor regardless of whether that nomination was brought about by fraud in voting or the casting of illegal ballots."

"Of course, I accept the decision of the court as final authority and make no criticism whatever of its ruling or its opinion. I do, however, assert that the law should be changed so that if, at any future time, a nomination for Governor is obtained by improper means there will be a court in which the wrong may be righted."

"I am in possession of evidence which would have clearly established that I was the one legally nominated for Governor. However, because of the element of time and the condition of the law, I am denied opportunity to assert my rights and establish these facts."

"I did not file this contest to gratify any personal ambition for I have sacrificed enough in the public service. I filed it to preserve Texas, the State for whose liberty my forefathers fought at San Jacinto, from the evils of Ferguson and what he represents in public life."

STOMACH DISORDERS THREATEN HIS LIFE SAYS WESTERN BANKER

"I tried everything to get relief from stomach trouble," says M. J. Joy, prominent banker, 425 Riverside Avenue, Spokane, Wash. "About an hour after meal time severe, burning pains would develop in my stomach. Finally, I had to carry a thermos bottle filled with milk and take a drink every hour. I went to one stomach specialist after another. All recommended an immediate operation and diagnosed my case as an ulcer. One doctor told my wife that I had a cancer of the stomach. X-rays cost me over $300. I was afraid to submit to an operation as a friend of mine had one for a stomach ulcer and later he was as bad as ever. A neighbor told me about a marvelous new discovery by a German specialist called KING'S STOMACH TABLETS. I wired for a bottle to be sent me C. O. D. After taking the first tablet I felt relieved. In less than a week my appetite began to return and I began to eat normally and digest my food. I used three bottles altogether. Two months ago I left off the treatment. I have gained 40 pounds in weight and feel like a boy again."

M. J. JOY

PRESCRIPTION OF SPECIALIST

KING'S STOMACH TABLETS so highly praised by Mr. Joy is a simple harmless preparation based on the formula of a noted stomach specialist. It cannot harm anyone and according to reports from users, has given complete satisfaction to thousands of stomach sufferers. Hundreds of these cases were of years duration and seemed hopeless. Yet they state they obtained relief almost from the first tablet and began to improve rapidly under the King treatment.

ACID STOMACH CAUSES IT

Excess acidity of the stomach, any physician will tell you, is the curse of millions. It is the most common cause of stomach or gastric ulcers as well as many other disorders of the stomach. In addition to stomach ulcers, acid stomach is generally the direct cause of nervous indigestion, gas pains, pains after eating, bloating, belching, gnawing pains, heartburn, gastritis, sour stomach, constipation, etc.

NEUTRALIZES EXCESS ACID

To combat these conditions you need a treatment that will absorb the extra acid in the stomach and then protect, soothe the membranes of the stomach lining in order that nature may heal the ulcerated condition. This new scientific way of treating stomach disorders is nothing short of miraculous. Thousands have been relieved and have rid themselves of their dangerous stomach trouble.

OFFERED ON 15 DAYS TRIAL

If your condition is due to excess acid King's Stomach Tablets should bring quick and lasting relief. Write today for my 15-DAY TRIAL OFFER. PROGRESS IS MADE ON MALARIA CONTROL

The program begun last June in Milam county as a part of the state and national plan of creating better health conditions for our citizenry, is continuing along several lines.

One of these was an educational talk given last Tuesday at Cameron Country Club by Miss Edna Southard of United States Public Health Service.

Miss Southard addressed a representative gathering of Milam County's women, giving startling information as to the annual toll of malaria in days and weeks of lowered resistance and consequent lowered capacity of both children and adults, stressing the prolonged result of neglect of malarial conditions in the system.

She told of the encouraging results of scientific dealing with such conditions and outlined the program accepted by our County Health Council and given us through federal and state appropriation.

The fact that Texas was the first state to make a specific appropriation for malaria control, inspires us with the determination to make good use of the program she provides.

Miss Southard also spoke of the health foundation being laid in our schools by the study of a booklet furnished by this movement and heartily approved by Mrs. Robbins, County Superintendent.

Dr. W. R. Newton, County Health Officer, spoke appreciatively of the work being done, and of the urgent need for intelligent interest in health conditions.

Recommendations were offered as to greater interest in municipal supervision of health and sanitation.

The demonstration feature of the extensive program begun last June, has been the screening and papering of four homes, all in different sections of the county. Sixteen mesh wire and heavy craft paper have been used.

The homes selected have afforded opportunity for demonstrating exclusion of mosquitoes and flies from even the older homes. These were located in Sharpe, Jones Prairie, Bethlehem, and Branchville. The people of the several communities have co-operated finely in helping with the work and have been impressed with the methods and materials used.

The respective chairmen have been Mrs. Jack Dunham, Mrs. Tom Slidham, Mrs. L. L. Bradley and I. Lewis.

"EVENING SONG"

(From the "Three Musketeers")
"Wont you come into my parlor?"
Said the Skeeter to the Fly.
"Its the dearest little parlor
That Farmer Jones could buy.
Not a screen to stay your coming,
Not a thing to say you nay—
Oh, come into my parlor—
And pass the time of day."

"Tis a pleasant looking prospect,
Ill admit," the Housefly said.
"We can keep up with the Joneses
And cut down overhead.
"First Ill get my fill of garbage
Crawling over filthy things;
Then Ill come and give the Jones
Gifts no other creature brings."

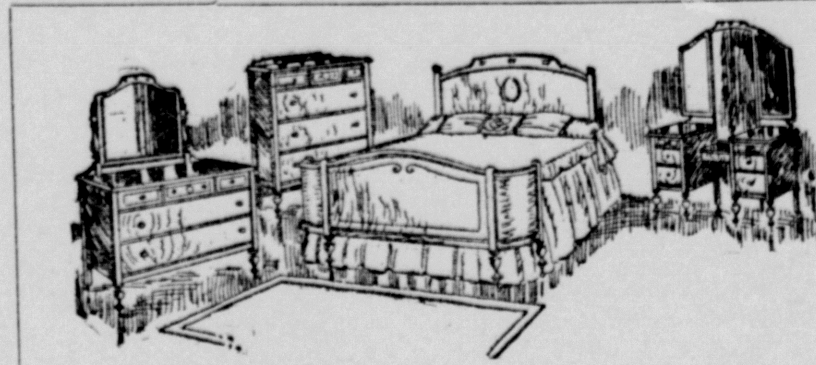

So the Fly stocked up on Typhoid
While the Skeeter pruned his bill
And at night they prowled the cabin
Planting germs with deadly skill.
Oh, the unsuspecting Joneses
Sleeping restlessly that night
Gave hostages to fortune—
Yielding up their great birthright.

Malaria fevers came upon them,
Typhoid and Diphtheria too—
And at last they learned their lesson
Screening is the thing to do.

A TONIC Laxative

CONSTIPATION, with the annoying symptoms that usually come with it, cuts down organic force and disturbs normal health and well-being. A thorough cleansing of the digestive tract is of great assistance in the removal of sickening constipation symptoms.

When excessive accumulated waste matter disturbs and strains the muscles of the large intestines, rendering them temporarily unable to perform their wave-like evacuating movements, Thedford's Black-Draught is useful in stimulating them to activity, which, again started, should continue regularly until some future disturbance interferes. In this way, Thedford's Black-Draught is one of the TONIC laxatives, tending, as it does, to establish a regular habit of evacuation.

Dance Amid Flames

The barbaric beauty of the primitive Hawaiian mating dance was caught in all its wild, esoteric splendor. Amid a circle of flames, Miss Del Rio undulates in the ominous night—a pathetic pawn of custom, waiting for some man to brave the fire and carry her off.

Joel McCrea rescues her—braves the menacing circle of fire—and carries her off to a deserted, neighboring island, free from the dreaded tabus of her people, momentarily free to love the white god who captured her. Then the theme of "Bird of Paradise" weaves its inevitable destiny. Luana's people wish to sacrifice her to Pele, the volcano, for having broken the tabu against mating with a white.

Luana is torn between love for Johnny (Joel McCrea) and the primitive terror or sorcery, and in the end makes a magnificent sacrifice that is a classic in the annals of drama.

Lavishly Done
In producing "Bird of Paradise" is tremendous in scope. No money was pinched to make it a realistic saga of romance.

POLITICAL PEACE PLEA OF MRS. FERGUSON IN STATEMENT TO PEOPLE

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson was certified as the nominee of the Democratic Party on last Saturday when the Supreme Court of Texas held the Sterling contest moot because of lack of time to try the suit.

Immediately after her name was certified to the County Clerks in Texas for the November ballot.

In a plea for political peace Mrs. Ferguson made the following statement:

"Of course I, with all the rest of my family and friends, am pleased at the decision of the supreme court. I was most ably represented by lawyers and I had the cooperation and best wishes of thousands of good people throughout the state. I hope that the intense feeling incident to this, as well as all other political campaigns, will cease and that everybody will now turn their attention to a democratic victory, state and national, in November, from which the people expect relief from our present economic troubles.

Jim Will Help

"As governor, I promise to give my undivided time and attention to the affairs of the office. Of course, my husband will help me as he should and as everybody expects he will. Whatever the merits of the controversy heretofore discussed, there is no use now for anybody to attempt to divert the minds of the people from attention to their needs for recuring to the fact that I have a husband that will give me his best time and talent in helping me to render needed service to the people. That question ought to be left at rest for a season at least, and I trust that it will.

For All the People

"I want an opportunity to show the people that I can be governor of all the people and I here and now ask for the cooperation of all good citizens, whether they voted for me in the campaign or not. I have forgotten all the harsh things that were said in the campaign and I want to be at peace with everybody, and I pray God that I may have the cooperation of the citizenship of our great state, in bringing about an administration of public affairs that will redound to the good of all the people.

Fight Depression

"While we have adjusted ourselves to our conditions and have met the panic with fortitude, yet we are not out of the darkness of depression and it is going to require a unified effort of all the people in promoting the common good, if we survive the difficulties of the future.

"Again I want to thank our friends everywhere for their continued loyalty and my husband joins me in thanking everybody in advance for their loyalty and support in dealing with problems of the future."

NEW SALEM SCHOOL OPENS OCTOBER THIRD

By J. R. HOBBS

Our school opened last Monday, October 3 with a large attendance of pupils and several of the patrons and trustees. The superintendent, J. M. Moorman made a nice talk. We are very fortunate to have the splendid faculty we have. They are not new to us as they all taught here last year except Miss Loree Boswell of Tanglewood. She will succeed Miss Dora Mae Pennington in the primary room. Miss Alla Rae Belt in the elementary room, Mrs. Moorman the sixth and seventh grades and Mr. Moorman the eighth and ninth grades.

Crops here are nearly all gathered. The cotton crop was short. This community has raised the largest crop of corn, peas, sweet potatoes, milo maize higeria, cane and peanuts than has been made in many years. Lots of cane was planted for syrup and a fair yield was obtained.

Grandma Long passed quietly away at her home here on last Wednesday night at the age of 86 years. She had been a resident of this community for a number of years. She leaves her children and a host of friends to mourn her untimely end. Interment was made in the Sand Grove cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Diver of the San Andres community were visiting among their children here the past week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Schlotman were visitors in the W. G. Hairston home Sunday afternoon.

John Dansby has recently returned from North Dakota where he has been working in the harvest fields. He reports the people in that state are in much better financial condition than are the people of Texas.

The Misses DeMore and Henderson of Bushdale were week end guests of Mrs. T. E. Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers were guests in the Dansby home Sunday.

J. W. Davis and children attended church at Rockdale Sunday.

Owen D. Graham of Thorndale was visiting here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Hosea were Rockdale visitors Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ellis and family were visitors at Hicks Sunday.

There will be singing at the Harmony church here every Sunday night and everyone is invited to come and be with us and take part.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Skinner and children were visitors in the John West home Sunday.

Mrs. M. M. Johnson was called to San Marcos last week on account of the illness of a grand child.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Welch and family of Yoakum have moved to Cameron where they will make their home in the future. Mr. Welch is a salesman for the Duncan Coffee Co. Cameron welcomes Mr. and Mrs. Welch.

Change of Venue Sought By Attorneys For Tucker Charged In Bank Failure

A change of venue was asked for J. C. Tucker by his attorneys in District Court here Tuesday. The motion was the last of a number filed that took the court through three days of preliminary proceedings. The judge had overruled all motions up to noon Wednesday when the motion for a change of venue was pending.

Witnesses were placed on stand to testify and were being questioned by attorneys for Tucker and by State's Attorney Jack Lewis. The defendant is charged in 17 indictments growing out of the failure of the Cameron State Bank on December 17, 1931.

Case Is Called

The case was called for trial Monday morning at nine o'clock. Four cases had been set by District Attorney Jack Lewis. Judge Dodson of the 87th District court at Marlin is on the bench taking the place of Judge Watson who is excused because he is related to defendant, J. C. Tucker.

Counsel for Tucker made objections to the manner in which the cases were set and also contended that no more than three cases was agreed to be set and the court had set four cases. William J. Holt, former Criminal District attorney for McLennan county at Waco, is attorney for Tucker in association with W. A. Morrison, Sr., Roy Baskin and W. A. Morrison Jr.

S. M. Burns, Democratic nominee for the office of Criminal District Attorney, was sitting with Jack Lewis in the case as an observer.

Want Judge Disqualified

When Judge Dodson had taken the bench the counsel for Tucker made a motion to disqualify the Judge, raising the question of procedure on the part of the court and a discussion followed in which the manner of the exchange of judges occurred. Judge John Watson served with a subpoena to appear as a witness but is in Marlin trying a case in the 87th District Court. Counsel for Tucker asked the Judge if he had received any notice from the Governor to sit in the case. Judge Dodson overruled the contention of Tucker's lawyers and cited the Constitution providing for methods by which judges may change places on the bench.

Constitution Governs

He said that no statute could hold higher authority than the Constitution and that his appearance in the case was on request of Judge Watson who was recused under the law. W. A. Morrison called to the attention of the court the statutes on Criminal Procedure of which the judge took note but overruled the motion to disqualify him to try the case. He said the Constitution sustained the action of himself and Judge Watson in making the exchange of their respective benches. Counsel for Tucker made their exceptions to all such rulings from the court. Deputy Sheriff Will Vaughn was sworn and testified to having served on Judge Watson the subpoena to appear as a witness in the case. Judge Watson was excused by the Court on the grounds he had exchanged benches and was in Marlin holding court.

Motion To Quash

When counsel for Tucker had failed in their motions thus far a motion to quash the indictments was presented to the court. The motion was based on the contention that the Grand Jury that returned the indictments had adjourned for more than three days and was not thereby in authority to return to consideration of the case and subsequently return the indictments. It was held that a grand jury may remain in panel during an entire court term but once it adjourns during consideration of cases before it that an indictment returned would be faulty. If the grand jury had adjourned three days the contention is the indictments would be regular. Charge is made the jury remained inactive for a length of time in excess of the three day limit.

Lewis Files Answer

When the court adjourned at noon Monday District Attorney Jack Lewis had spent more than an hour preparing an answer to the petition filed by the attorneys for Tucker to quash the indictments.

Court Room Crowded

J. C. Tucker, charged in seventeen counts with embezzlement, drawing without authority and with intent to defraud and false entry, sat with his attorneys, watching the proceedings with casual concern. The court room was crowded to capacity when the cases were called. The jury venire was present and the members were excused while the motions were argued. Witnesses subpoenaed by defense counsel to support motion for a change of venue were present. Interest lagged somewhat with the tedious procedure and many left the court room and at noon only a few remained.

Motions Are Filed

When the court convened at 2 p. m., attorneys for Tucker filed a motion to quash the indictment in case No. 9191 which was called for trial first. In the motion the defense counsel said the case involved five alleged felonies and all charges had been grouped under one bill of indictment. This motion was overruled. Counsel for state made answers to the motion.

The next motion to be filed was that a certified copy of the indictments should be served and failure on part of the court to do so was sufficient grounds to quash, said the counsel for defense. Judge Dodson overruled this motion and counsel for Tucker took an exception as they did in all the actions of the court in overruling their motions.

Claim Judge Erred

A motion to quash indictments and case No. 9191 which was the first called for trial was submitted with the plea that Judge John Watson had erred in not recusing himself from all connection with the case. The plea sets out that Judge Watson received the indictments and set the cases and should have declined all connection with the case. This motion was overruled. District Attorney Jack Lewis wanted to make a written reply to this motion but said he could not do so until he had talked with Judge Watson who is in Marlin. The reply of the District Attorney will be made when he has consulted Judge Watson.

Would Quash Jury Panel

The last motion to be filed on Monday was made to quash the jury panel. Counsel for Tucker said the

the failure in Cameron.

The motion was pending when the court adjourned. District Attorney Lewis was framing his reply to the motion when the court adjourned.

Jury Excused

Judge Dodson excused the jurors until 9 a. m. Wednesday when they are called to report at the court room. The panel was asked to leave the court room while the motions were under discussion. The court adjourned until 9 a. m. Tuesday at which time Judge Dodson took under consideration the motion to quash the jury. It seemed certain that the court would get under way to try the case by Wednesday or Thursday although some time will be required to select a jury.

Witnesses were expected to be summoned on both sides on some of the motions, it was indicated.

Motions Continue

When court convened on Tuesday at 9 o'clock Judge Dodson was confronted with additional motions. Late Monday he took under advisement the motion to quash the jury panel. Counsel for Tucker had District Clerk Penn Wolf sworn and placed on the stand to testify as to the court records. It was developed that Judge Few Brewster of Bell county had presided in the court at the time the jury commission was called. Mr. Wolf said that in an effort to assist the judge that the Jury Commission and panel for the term involving more than 300 names had been prepared by himself and the District Attorney and Sheriff and the list was available to the Judge when he arrived. Counsel for Tucker urged this proceeding did not meet the requirements of the law. At noon counsel for Tucker had asked for a ruling from the court.

Ask Postponement

Another motion filed asked postponement of the present trial and counsel for Tucker asked the court to set the order of trial. Counsel was raising throughout the proceedings the question of the legality of the entire proceedings from the time the indictments were returned, the validity of the jury commission and the jury panel. District Attorney Jack Lewis in each instance made a reply to the motions and in all motions thus far Judge Dodson had overruled contentions of counsel for Tucker.

MY STORY

By MRS. H. A. KUZEL

Orchard, Garden and Pantry Demonstrator for Corinth Home Demonstration Club.

J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist, in February of this year gave an orchard demonstration at my home, setting out trees and pruning orchard. All clubs in the county were represented at this meeting, each going back to their respective clubs and putting on like demonstrations.

Number of fruit trees, peach, plum and fig plants in my orchard were 29 with a value of $2.18 with 24 berries and 4 grapes making a total value of $3.83. Our orchard was well cultivated during the spring and summer months. In late summer my husband planted black eyed peas in the orchard. In the latter part of September these peas were turned under and the ground was planted in oats.

The total number of fruit trees set out by club and community is 191, 261 berries and 24 grapes, total value is $26.

My garden cost for seed, fertilizer and labor was $10.75. I had 16 varieties of vegetables. For my family of three I have used from this garden fresh vegetables valued at $82.85. I have canned of fruits and vegetables 409 quarts with a value of same, including 16 quarts of honey, $103.55.

Until this year I stored my canned products in the storm cellar but recently my husband built a pantry, which contains 42 feet of shelving and has four doors. The cost of this pantry (lumber, beaver board, ivory enamel and paint was $10.65.

My cooperators came in and organized my pantry arranging products in the following order: Shelves 1 and 2 were leafy vegetables such as kraut, string beans, black eyed peas and spinach; shelf No. 3 was starchy vegetables as corn and English peas; No. 4 contained milk, butter, home made cheese, eggs, bread crumbs, rice, whole wheat, cereals, browned flour, pecans, dates, carrots, cabbage, fresh fruits, cookies, raisins, noodles and canned black eyed peas, pickled peaches, spinach, tomatoes, vegetable soup, corn, minced chicken, chicken gumbo, pickled beets, dill pickles, sandwich spread, okra, kraut, jelly and fish.

Shelf 5 had vegetables of all kinds. Shelf 6 had fruits.

Shelf 7 contained meats, pickles and relishes.

Shelf 8 had jellies, preserves and relishes.

My dry vegetables are Irish potatoes, onions, and garlic in the amount of 740 pounds valued at $37.

I was handicapped in canning since I have no steam pressure cooker but my cooperators kindly helped me, by coming to my home bringing their cookers and sealers or I would go to their homes. Thus I was able to do what I have done and while so doing became better acquainted with my neighbors.

Building my pantry called for other improvements in my kitchen. I painted the ceiling a cream color, my new kitchen paper is tan and blue, the latter color predominating, my curtains, made by one of my cooperators, a neighbor, are blue print, with white dots. These curtains have ruffles. A pretty blue bulletin file, made by another cooperator hangs on the wall. A new flue was built also. Total expenditures for wall paper, paint, paint brush, curtains, bulletin file and flue was $8.00. I have sold $70.00 worth of eggs and $154.00 worth of butter the first nine months of this year. This paid for groceries, 244 cans, six dozen fruit jars, ice, gasoline and miscellaneous articles not listed.

$100 was spent for groceries of which perhaps $30 was for fresh fruit but we believe in lots of fresh fruit in our diet.

I shall now give the 4-H pantry report of Corinth Club.

Number of quarts canned 5616, total value being $2348; recipe menu files made, 4; number feet shelving added, 105; average number containers per member, 281; average member reporting, $117.40; per cent of people reached, 29; dried vegetables for club 17,042 pounds; value $852; cured meats, 4150 pounds with value of $498.

When I began my work as orchard, garden and pantry demonstrator I knew little about the club work but thanks to Miss Bartholomew, County Home Agent and to my cooperators, who have assisted and encouraged me. I think I know more than when I began.
